

Metaltru brings unique wireframe pieces

The mission of balancing design, functionality, and perceived value to create harmonic shapes has yielded hard-to-resist proposals. Metaltru presents Niva and Alvorada lines at Maison & Objet

In addition to a timeless design that blends the delicacy of geometric shapes and the wireframe tendency to compose decorative and authorial pieces, the products carry an identity marked by proportion.

The news are based on the principles of simplicity and purity. The Dawn Line reinforces the Brazilianity DNA with a three-dimensional design in steel and natural wood, and the Niva Line reshapes the connection between design and functionality with collapsible structure chairs.

Thermoplasticized finishing options for Metal are also expanded and Gold comes in the same environmentally friendly, non-toxic and recyclable proposal of Chrome and Copper.
